Theresa was the just the expert I was searching for! Her workshop encompassed the emotional component of illness and dysfunction, illustrating how emotional exhibitionism can be a health benefit. I highly recommend her as a speaker for healthcare professionals!"

-Charlene Chirillo, Gulf Coast Area Health Education Center

"Theresa is a passionate speaker and the content of her presentation was profoundly thought-provoking. Hospice and long-term care professionals would really enjoy Theresa and be inspired after hearing her speak. She is awesome! Our employees were waiting in line to speak with her and purchase her book. I have recommended her to several colleagues, knowing that they will not be disappointed in her as a speaker."
